Amanda,

Good morning

I have been working all night and will have the other two pages (which visually shows and explains the relationship between the real-world and virtual orientations of the scene/camera/stage, etc) finished shortly. This is in addition to a new page with the system layout/flow that I also completed over the weekend.

I don't want to delay anything at all so just let me know a hard cutoff if that is a concern and I'll send you what I got...otherwise I will have it to you before lunch realistically.

Thanks,
~Matt
