Amanda,

Good morning. Hope all is well.

It is going to take me until Monday to finish all of the documentation of my invention. It will end up being at least a 15 page pdf. Lots of pictures of use case, etc.

Not sure if I am getting too detailed in terms of the scope as it relates to the patent application but I feel like it makes sense to put together something proper as I will be able to use this document to approach investors as well.

Even though I don't have all of the documentation finished I figured it wouldn't hurt to give you a very short introduction to what it is I have been obsessing over for the last three weeks.

Here's a few images as well as a short video clip of my assistant Megan demonstrating the use of my invention

I'm excited to know what your initial thoughts are once you take a look ! !
