Amanda,

Couple more questions-

1 - In regards to me mentioning taking the InfiniSet name off of the documents and you replying and mentioning a trademark -

Should I not share the name with anyone at all until I trademark it even though I own InfiniSet.com?

2 - I already have meetings setup next week to start sharing this and discussing with people. If you have a basic NDA you could provide me with that I could have people sign I would prefer that for certain people I'm going to share this with - mainly people I know in Los Angeles who know tons of people. I still want to try and keep it somewhat of a 'secret' until the prototype is finished and I'm able to film a demo and get everything put together in terms of overall presentation.

Thanks,
~Matt
