STATE OF MINNESOTADISTRICT COURT*COUNTY OF HENNEPIN*FOURTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT

State of Minnesota,

Court File No.: 27-CR-23-1886

Plaintiff,

vs.

DEFENDANT'S

Matthew David Guertin,

AFFIDAVIT OF FACT

Defendant.

TO: THE HONORABLE JULIA DAYTON KLEIN, JUDGE OF THE DISTRICT COURT; THE CLERK OF THE FOURTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT COURT; MS. JACQUELINE PEREZ, ASSISTANT HENNEPIN COUNTY ATTORNEY; AND THE OFFICE OF THE HENNEPIN COUNTY ATTORNEY.

AFFIDAVIT OF FACT

I, MATTHEW DAVID GUERTIN, residing at 1075 Traditions Court, City of Chaska, County of Carver, State of Minnesota, being duly sworn, hereby depose and state under penalty of perjury:

INTRODUCTION

I conducted a data analysis of the Minnesota Court Records Online (MCRO) by downloading a total of 3,556 MCRO PDF criminal case files, which span a total of 163 unique criminal case ID numbers which were obtained through the 'hearing' search provided on the MCRO website that allows someone to search by specific Judicial Officers. This analysis began out of curiosity, and my wondering as to whether or not it was standard procedure to have a very small group of just three Judicial Officers essentially 'take over' a criminal court case from early on in its inception in what seems to be a very 'contained' or 'controlled' manner. This is what it seems like in my current case anyways – which lead me take a look at the the case distribution amongst the three Judicial Officers who have been making all of the key decisions in my criminal, as well as my civil case now. A brief exercise if you will...one which involves using a multi-step process in which I print a PDF of each 200 result date range search beginning at April 26, 2024, and spanning into the past until reached January 1, 2023. I then converted these PDF files to text files and processed them using custom Python scripts that allowed me to clean up, and sort the massive collection of data I compiled – which eventually resulted in me being able to run a Python script that used three different text files as its input, and then output a new text file that only contained the cases which the Honorable Judge Julia Dayton Klein, Danielle Mercurio, and George Borer all had hearings listed for in the 2023-Current date range I searched. I then segregated these even further using the year ID signifying the cases origination year.

The total number of ‘Shared Cases’ between all three is 163.

I then created a custom Python script that uses the Selenium library, allowing for automation scripting of a developer version of Chrome web browser. The script allowed me to navigate to any individual case timeline page, hit ‘enter’, and automatically download every single PDF document filed into the case in a matter of seconds. This resulted in a massive dataset of around 2gb total. All of the PDF documents are directly downloaded and organized into individual folders for the ‘year of case origination’ with each year directory containing a folder for each individual case, where each case folder contains every single available PDF document from the MCRO website in addition to the full HTML website download, and a PDF page printout of the MCRO webpage.

There are a lot of duplicate names. Some of them with slight, as well as not so slight variations. These would include the following as an example:

PRIEST JESUS, ANGELIC DENISE SCHAEFER, ANGELIC DENISE NUNN, MAKIS DUVELL LANE, MAKIS DEVELL LANE, and MAKIS DEVIL LANE.

I also conducted an insightful data analysis that involved simple file searching by the name of the MCRO filed document – such as ‘Finding of Incompetency and Order’, ‘E-filed Comp Order for Detention’, and ‘Rule 20.01 Evaluation for Competency to Proceed’ among others.

I intentionally wrapped this side project up very quickly as far as drawing a line, and being done with it as otherwise there is obviously a million other directions, and datapoints one could further investigate. Not me however. I am of the belief that what I have compiled is presented in its most basic, and simple form insofar as being left open for interpretation and not trying to draw any specific conclusions beyond those which the data serves to perhaps draw on its own.

EXHIBIT SUMMARY

Below is a summary of the three exhibits accompanying this affidavit.

Exhibit A:

Data Analysis of Shared Judicial Assignments to Cases

A very detailed introduction and overview of the analysis process along with a massive amount of random datapoints I assembled. This exhibit also includes an overview of the much broader question that is raised in regards to impartiality in legal proceedings, and how there might be a much larger question raised based on the results of this analysis.

Exhibit B:

Circular Handling Analysis

A selection of cases that are shared between all three Judicial Officers, in which I analyze the ‘circular handling’ that has become very apparent to me in my current court case. ‘Circular Handling’ could also perhaps be called ‘Decision Bouncing’ as it is simply taking a closer look at how many critical decisions in a defendant’s criminal case are essentially bounced back and forth between the same three people in a consistent, and recognizable pattern.

Exhibit C:MCRO 'Finding of Incompetency and Order' Analysis

A data table grouped by year which shows who ordered the initial Rule 20.01 Exam, and who ultimately made the ruling once the Rule 20.01 exam was completed. These are all 130 of the orders, as contained between all of the shared case files. As part of this tables assembly I was able to discover that out of the 130 orders there were 6 instances in which the same Judicial Officer who recommended the Rule 20.01 exam was then also the one to rule on their previous order once the Rule 20.01 exam was completed and it came before them once again.

Shared Download Folder of All MCRO Files I Downloaded and Analyzed:

Case files origination spans 2017 – 2023. Six separate .zip files.

Includes Python download script I used to collect all of the PDF files.

CONCLUSION

I affirm under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct to the best of my knowledge, information, and belief. I also affirm that all of the data I have presented herein is accurate, true, and correct to the best of my knowledge. I made every effort to double and triple check every figure I listed, my Python scripts, and each step that it took to ensure this data was compiled in accurate and thorough process. All of the data collected and analyzed is all directly from the MCRO website itself, and is all authentic and without any altering, omissions, or deceit of any kind. All of this data was gathered, processed, and analyzed within the last 4-5 days from the filing of this affidavit. It is 'fresh' – and I am filing this affidavit 'as is' so that it doesn't go stale for whatever reason.

Data Analysis of Judicial Involvement in Criminal and Probate / Mental Health Cases

In an effort to better understand and support the defendant's concerns regarding the fairness and impartiality of his court proceedings, the defendant utilized the Minnesota Judicial Branch's official online system, MCRO (Minnesota Court Records Online), to analyze the patterns of judicial involvement in his cases. The focus was on the three specific Judicial Officers who have overseen all significant decisions and procedural aspects of his case from its very inception, and in which his current criminal case has a litany of procedural anomalies and discrepancies which the defendant believes are all indicative of his case being handled in a 'non standard' way.

Methodology:

Data Collection:

- Platform Used: Minnesota Court Records Online (MCRO).
- Objective: To gather hearing records for the three Judicial Officers involved in the defendant's case
- Judicial Officers Analyzed:
 - The Honorable Judge Julia Dayton Klein
 - The Honorable Court Referee Danielle C. Mercurio
 - The Honorable Court Referee George Borer

Search Criteria:

- Date Range: January 1, 2023, to April 26, 2024.
- Case Categories: Each judge's involvement was searched, and then retrieved using two filters – The 'Criminal' and 'Probate or Mental Health' categories of the provided 'Hearing Search' option of the MCRO online records system.

Data Processing:

- The defendant conducted a separate search for each judge under each category, resulting in six sets of data.
- Custom Python scripts were used to organize and filter the data, ensuring that each individual court case was counted once per category, per judge.
- The analysis focused on identifying common cases handled by all three judges within the given time frame.

Results:

The analysis uncovers a distinct pattern in the distribution of case assignments among the three judicial officers, with a notable number of cases shared among them in criminal court proceedings, rather than in the civil court proceedings as defined by the court. The data shows that this small group wields significant influence over pivotal decisions in a defendant's criminal proceedings, many times from their inception. Often, these are the very same decisions that lead to civil court proceedings under MN Statutes § 253B.

According to the description of the 'Hennepin Probate / Mental Health Court' by the 4th Judicial District Court's own website:

“ Probate Court handles cases involving the property of deceased persons, wills, trusts, guardianships, and conservatorships.

Mental Health Court handles the legal process involving the civil commitment of people to treatment centers based on allegations of mental illness, developmental disability, chemical dependency, and referrals from Criminal Court. ”

The overlap in judicial roles highlighted by the analysis raises concerns about the lack of clear delineation between criminal and civil proceedings. The same judges who oversee critical decisions in criminal cases also manage the referrals to civil commitments, effectively referring cases to themselves. This dual role blurs the boundaries required for impartiality and fairness in judicial processes, presenting a risk of unchecked control and influence contained within a very small group of Judicial Officers.

Interpretation:

The defendant is of the belief that the observed patterns of case handling by the identified judicial officers is most likely an established procedural norm within the judicial system itself, rather than clandestine or unethical arrangements. This interpretation suggests that the practices in question are not, by themselves indicative of covert misconduct, but are instead emblematic of systemic protocols that are openly sanctioned and promoted within the court itself.

The crux of the legal issues raised centers on the procedural use of Rule 20.01 Evaluation Reports to facilitate a rapid channeling of cases to a select group of three judicial officers whenever such evaluations are mandated. This procedural mechanism, raises significant legal and ethical concerns regarding the potential for undue influence and prejudicial treatment.

Furthermore, this system enables a concentrated control over both criminal proceedings and any consequent civil commitments within the Hennepin County courts. Such a concentrated control, inherently increases the risk of abuse, as it places substantial judicial power and decision-making within the hands of a few, potentially compromising the impartiality and fairness required in judicial proceedings.

¹ It is highly relevant to point out the fact that this analysis was conducted based solely on the 'hearing' dates. One of the Judicial Referees, George Borer, is also involved in the defendant's civil commitment case as well. For some reason the hearing that George Borer had scheduled on February 1, 2024 cannot be found in his 'official' civil court hearing dates when searching on the courts MCRO site. The defendant also experimented with additional Python scripts to match the names of the party involved in both civil and criminal cases but did not pursue that path further. The defendant believes that all of these results he was able to put together is worthy of much more investigation and time, but the defendant had to 'draw the line' somewhere in regards to how much time he put into this research.

THE VERY CLEAR 'CIRCULAR' HANDLING PATTERN OF CRIMINAL CASES TAKING PLACE BETWEEN THE SAME THREE 'PROBATE / MENTAL HEALTH' (CIVIL COURT) JUDICIAL OFFICERS -

A selection of 'common criminal cases' between all three Judicial Officers which originated in 2023

State of Minnesota vs JIMMY EDWARD SPEARS III (27-CR-23-1600)

Initial Handling by George Borer:

The case began with George Borer handling an initial hearing on February 14, 2023, where key procedural decisions were made. This set the foundational legal framework for the case, addressing initial appearances and bail conditions.

Transition to Julia Dayton Klein:

The case was then transferred to Julia Dayton Klein for a subsequent hearing on March 7, 2023. During this hearing, she addressed several procedural aspects, building upon the groundwork laid by Borer, including the discussion and rulings related to further bail conditions and procedural advancements.

Engagement of Danielle Mercurio:

After Klein's involvement, the case moved to Danielle Mercurio for additional hearings, where she continued the judicial process, possibly reinforcing or modifying the decisions previously made by Klein and Borer. This included handling motions related to the ongoing legal proceedings and adjusting judicial approaches based on the evolving case context.

Return to George Borer:

The case circled back to George Borer, who conducted another hearing on March 21, 2023. His involvement at this stage again signifies the cyclic nature of the judicial handling among these three judges, where he reviewed and ruled on procedural motions, ensuring the continuity and legal consistency of the case handling.

Final Handling by Julia Dayton Klein:

The case eventually returned to Julia Dayton Klein for the final decisions, where she concluded the proceedings based on the cumulative inputs over multiple hearings by the involved judges. This included a critical review and final ruling on April 11, 2023, effectively closing the procedural loop and ensuring all judicial decisions were comprehensively addressed.
